Peace Awards 2022

In its desire to honor those who serve in peace as well as perpetuating the Gospel of Peace. The International College of Peace Studies, has established a series of national honor for Peace awards since September 2019.

Awards Criteria

The Peace Award, announced annually, is managed by the select committee of International College of Peace Studies to recognize any outstanding efforts by recipients, who have promoted the concept of Community, National, and international understanding and who, in so doing, have made a contribution to world peace.

Eligibility: The Award Committee will recognize the efforts of ordinary people. Those recognized will be both average, and outstanding people who in some special and dedicated manner have made a real contribution to international peace, and local community goodwill. The award may also be granted to individuals and groups who collectively have achieved this aim.

Categories to be Awarded: Nominees will be picked from the categories indicated below:

- i. Religious leaders
- ii. Media personalities
- iii. Political leaders
- iv. Security agents
- v. Beacon Teachers
- vi. Artists / Musicians
- vii. Professionals from various fields
- viii. Corporate Bodies
- ix. NGOs
- x. Human Rights Organizations
- xi. Youths / Women / Physically Challenged Persons
- xii. Any other persons who have played a major role in promoting peace across the world.

The Peace Award is open to people from across the world.

The Award: The Award itself symbolizes peace love and unity in the fields of peacemaking, dialogue, and conflict resolutions. The Medallion is accompanied by a miniature silver lapel badge and a certificate setting out the nature of the Prize and the citation on which the award was given.

Presentation: The Award is normally presented in conjunction with the organization of the Worldwide Encouragement Society and International Institute Humanitarian Diplomacy.

The Year Awards is done annually ‘to recognize the efforts and achievements of awardees especially those in the field of peace-making, who have given service to their fellow citizens and to the community in a positive, selfless and compassionate manner.

How and When to Nominate:

Nominations are open from 28th October 2022 to various countries. In Kenya, nominations will be picked from all counties, and from various organizations. Nominations from organizations or individuals with citations/references giving full details of the nominee service and background should be forwarded to the Chairperson of the Peace Award Committee. Nomination forms can be downloaded from our website or be picked from the office during working hours.

Judging Panel and Process

The Peace Awards program is a peer review process, based on information supplied in the written entry. The Judges' decision is final. For the Peace Award to be granted, an entry will have to satisfy each of the stated criteria at an appropriate level. The Award Committee reserves the right to make changes to the number of awards in each category. Therefore, there is no guarantee that each category will have an award.

In addition to the Award winners, Letters of Commendation can be requested by a judging panel wishing to recognize quality aspects of an entry and encourage further development.

The Panels

The Peace Awards Judging Panels are responsible for reviewing all award submissions and deciding on the winners. The panel is comprised of a broad spectrum of professionals, including peace educators, academicians, humanitarian diplomats, health workers, program coordinators, security personnel, researchers and senior clergy. The panel is drawn from across Kenya and other parts of the world.

These awards are a sign of appreciation and recognition of men and women who have played a visible role in promoting peace. The award is given following nomination by members of the community and the respective member's organization. The award is recognized both at national and international level.
